Please Note

Some of the local trails pass through private property. The owners of these lands are kind enough to allow us the privilege to ride these areas. PLEASE respect this – it is not a right to be there. Stay on the trails and parking areas and do not leave garbage behind. Respect the livestock and ride slow while near them. Most private land owners do not want fires or fire pits on their property, so restrict use to non-private land.

It only takes a few irresponsible individuals to wreck it for the rest of us, so please act respectfully.

Have a Horse?

South-western Alberta has some of the best backcountry just waiting to be explored. Horse back is an excellent non-motorized way of getting into these remote and beautiful areas. The Southern Alberta Trail Riders Association (SATRA) promotes and encourages safe responsible use of the backcountry.

As a club we look to organize rides and to help members find new and exciting areas to explore.

We develop and clear trails in the southwest area of Alberta, and additionally are working to develop a trail riding equine facility for camping and staging the trails used in that area.

Participating in the Southern Alberta Trail Riding Association is both fun and rewarding.
